

How to Book & FAQs

Q&A

Is there a minimum order?

Yes, our minimum order is 10 sets in total for take-home and stall/display drives. You can combine products to make up the 10. There is no minimum order for order form drives.

How much should we order?

If running a take home drive, we recommend ordering one set per family/participant. If running a stall or setting up a display, we recommend our minimum order. You are always welcome to top up during or after your drive.

Can I combine products and/or methods?

Yes, it can really help boost sales to do a mix of products and fundraising models. Aim to keep it simple though—too many options can confuse people.

How long will it take to get my order?

Delivery time will depend on your location. Most capital cities and large metro areas arrive 1-2 days after dispatch; WA and regional areas are typically around a week.

Is there a delivery fee?

For orders over 50 sets, delivery is free. If ordering less than 50 sets, a flat fee of $20 will be charged.

How long should we run our drive?

For take-home and order form drives we recommend sending products/forms home for no longer than 2 weeks. For stalls we recommend receiving your goods 1 week prior to the event and having a back-up plan in case of any left-overs.

When do we have to pay?

For take-home and stall/display drives Living Fundraisers will send you a 30 day invoice with your order*. For order form drives, payment is required upon dispatch of goods.

Do you accept returns?

Returns are accepted on most items. Returns are not accepted on the minimum order. Please visit our website for full terms and conditions.

When should I order?

We encourage you to book your drive in as early as possible – we will calculate the best dispatch date so that your order arrives by your preferred date.

Is there a quarantine fee for WA and TAS deliveries?

No, we no longer charge for quarantine however seeded products will still need to be inspected which can delay delivery 1-2 days.
